Parkline, Inc. Hires New Regional Sales Managers

Eleanor, W.Va. – Metal building manufacturer, Parkline, Inc., recently expanded its outside sales force to include Rex Woodmansee of Indiana and Ron Buchanan of Ohio. The current outside sales staff is based in Parkline's West Virginia corporate office and assists Parkline's builder network by helping get the product specified by engineering and architectural firms throughout the nation.

The two new regional sales managers will have regional offices based in their own region. Woodmansee, in Converse, IN will be responsible for building business in his home state and a small area of eastern Illinois. Woodmansee brings extensive knowledge in the metal building business to Parkline. For example, he owned his own metal building construction company and also worked as a contractor for a metal building manufacturer. Overall he boasts 33 years of experience in the industry. His regional office phone number is 765-395-3285.

Buchanan, in Wapakoneta, OH will focus on promoting the Parkline building system in Ohio and a portion of Kentucky. He also brings quite a bit of experience to Parkline. He has worked with two other metal building manufacturers and owned his own business. His regional office phone number is 419-738-2552.

Parkline, Inc. is 100% employee-owned and is an industry leader in the manufacturing of small pre-engineered metal buildings. Parkline has over 60,000 building systems currently in service throughout the United States, Canada and a number of foreign countries. The company, which has been in business for over 30 years, provides high quality, cost-effective answers to a wide variety of small building needs in the industrial, commercial, and public utility building sectors.
